We are living through a fundamental transformation in the way we work; automation and 'thinking machines' are replacing human tasks, changing the skills that organisations are looking for in their people. But what will the future look like? PwC has developed four scenarios in their 'Workforce of the Future' study (www.pwc.com/people): a Red World where innovation rules; a Blue World where corporate is king; a Green World where companies care, and a Yellow World where humans come first.

Assuming you find yourself on a journey that looks like it ends in a 'Red World' scenario (where Innovation Rules), what are the pros and cons for you? What skills will be important for individuals to thrive in this world, and how do you plan on adapting to it?

The main prize will be a fully-paid expenses trip to Dubai for one week valued at $3000. The visit will take place preferably in early September 2018.

Interested students send their Video to the Dean, International Relations at Email id: deanir.du@gmail.com latest by May 23, 2018 4:00 pm.
